The definition of a mentor is:

Collins: a wise or trusted adviser or guide

Oxford: An experienced person in a company or educational institution who trains and counsels new employees or students.
A Referee Mentor is responsible for supporting and advising newly qualified referees in their local region/area league.
A Referee Mentor is the first point of contact for newly qualified referees and should encourage and support them in their early days of refereeing.

This includes:
- Visiting a local Grade IV course for introduction
- Send a post-course congratulatory email with contact details
- A follow-up personal contact (phone/event)
- Visit matches – support, advise, feedback (positive but also constructive)
- Abbreviated report back to RRC (2/3 line by email)
Needs to be:

- Approachable
- A good communicator
- Knowledgeable (about volleyball)
- A team player
- A good listener
Refereeing needs you!
